S. T. MEKILL,
L. M. BENNETT,
S. S. NORTHRUP,
W. H. TRIPP,
Committee.

Since Jeff Davis has received a "barrel" by the last will of a lady admirer, he can get up a little boom in Mississippi.

It was Ben Hill who said the war didn't settle anything; but the New York Tribune says it will settle the next election.

When it is considered that General Ewing has got to keep up a forced smile for three months, his hard lot can be appreciated.

It is said that Secretary Sherman has never spoken in Maine. His appearance in that State, on the 23d instant, as a campaign speaker, will create a lively interest.

The Republican chorus will be full and strong this fall in all the States; but if you want to hear something which makes the people rush for the words, wait till the Democrats start their melody.

The Greenbackers and the Democrats will probably unite in Pennsylvania this fall. They are satisfied that neither can win if separate tickets are put in the field.

A coalition will make a Republican victory certain in that State by a big majority.

Between heavy rains in England and France, and hail and grasshoppers in Russia, the wheat crops of Europe will be a failure. While this will be a deplorable thing for these countries, it will be a boon to the United States—opening a good market for the surplus wheat which this country will harvest this year.

A noble-minded citizen of Baltimore—one of wealth and a tender heart, will bequeath $500,000 for the benefit of the sick children of that city. The New York Times makes the statement that of all the bequests which have been made in that city, children's hospitals have been neglected. There are thousands of suffering children in the metropolis, and "the fatal fact that 800 to 1,000 little ones die every week during the summer months is a reminder to every humane person of the terrible waste of that great city."

SPEAKERS FOR THE CELEBRATION.

A telegram to-day from Hon. Horace Ruble, Chairman of the State Republican Committee, to the editor of the Gazette, says that Senator Chandler, of Michigan, are positively engaged to speak at the great Republican celebration at Madison, on the 23d. Congressman Williams will also speak. Senators Carpenter and Cameron, and other prominent public men, have promised to be present. The fact that two of Michigan's most noted men and popular speakers will be there, will be almost an irresistible attraction. Senator Chandler is known of all men. Mr. Burrows, while he has not been in public life many years, is an orator of great power. One of the keenest and most scathing rebukes the Democrats received during the extra session, came from Mr. Burrows, and as it was published in the Gazette the day following its delivery, our readers have not forgotten it. It was read by hundreds of thousands all over the land, and the loyal heart of the country applauded Mr. Burrows for giving the Democrats just what they deserved. Adding to these speakers, Senator Carpenter and Mr. Williams, the attractions, so far as speeches are concerned, will be sufficient to draw out the largest political gathering ever known in the Northwest.

Mr. Rublee has the thanks of the Republican party of Wisconsin for his efforts to make the celebration a success.

THE SOUTHERN TERROR.

There is great excitement in Memphis and other Southern cities in regard to the re-appearance of yellow fever. Two deaths have already occurred at Memphis, and these taking place so early in the season, give rise to the apprehension that the South is doomed to another fearful scourge. Whether or not their fears are well founded, can hardly be determined at this time. The Memphis Board of Health, while it has advised people to flee from the city for safety, publishes the opinion that the disease will not become prevalent. The city has been quarantined, every precaution has been taken to prevent the repetition of last year's terrible scenes, physicians are on the alert, and the hopes prevail that its spread will be prevented.
Whether these expectations can be realized, time can only tell. It did not break out in Memphis last year till the 14th of August, and in less than twenty days from that time it was destroying nearly a hundred lives a day.
What a month will bring forth can not be determined by the best physicians in the South. They hope to avoid the scourge, and every sanitary measure is being resorted to which will tend to prevent the disease from spreading.

Fears are entertained that should the fever break out in the South, and the summer continue hot, it will work its way North and begin its work of destruction. Experience and facts prove that these fears should not exist. The disease is confined almost wholly to towns situated on the sea coast or on the banks of navigable rivers, and in certain latitudes. Also a certain degree of heat seems to be necessary to its existence, and the first frost puts an end to it. It is a singular disease, and why it will make the most fearful ravages in the Southern part of the United States and in tropical Africa, and yet be unknown in the Indian ocean—why it should be endemic in Vera Cruz and Havana, and yet never be seen in Calcutta or Bombay, cannot be explained. It visited Philadelphia in 1793, 1797, and 1798, and carried away ten thousand victims in these three years. Since then it has been almost wholly unknown in that city, and from 1830 to 1853, there had not been a single case. A few cases once appeared in New York city—in 1822—and for more than fifty years it has been virtually unknown even in a place so filthy as New York. It is said that yellow fever can not live in places whose altitudes are 300 feet above the level of the sea. It may be that but little faith can be pinned in this statement, but it does appear that the disease has never obtained a foothold in places situated at that altitude, especially in the Northern part of the United States.
Chicago is 578 feet above the level of the sea, and as filthy as some portions of that city are, there are no substantial reasons why its citizens should dread the fever.
The temperature is too varied to permit it to spread to an alarming extent, if it should reach the city at all. However deadly it may do its work in the South, the North may rest assured that it will escape its ravages.

DEMOCRATIC ECONOMY.

The radical press have a deal to say about the Democrats hampering the wheels of the government by their stingy course in cutting down the expenses of the departments. The people, however, who are hampered now a-days in order to make a living of it and pay their taxes, justify the economy of the Democratic Congress.—Madison Democrat.

Don't it come with very much ill-grace for the Madison Democrat, which pretends to be a frank, honest, and independent Democratic newspaper, to father a statement of that kind? If the Democratic Congress was an economical one, why did it squander a million dollars of the people's money in forcing upon the country an extra session which was not needed and should have been avoided? If the Democratic Congress wanted to serve the people and legislate for their interests, and show an unselfish spirit of reform, why didn't the Democrats come nearer home when they began to cut down expenses? They made a bitter war against the army. They attempted to paralyze the right arm of the body politic by an effort to not only reduce the army, but to make it impossible for the President to use the army when it was necessary in preserving the peace and enforcing the laws in case of insurrection as has been threatened against the authority of the government.
It is easy to see that Democratic leadership in the policy they thus marked out for itself, meant mischief and danger to the country, especially so when we remember the fact that ex-Confederate Representatives constitute the controlling power of the Democratic majority in Congress.

If the Democratic Congress was anxious to inaugurate reform, why did it not begin with the officers of the Senate and the House? Why attempt to starve the army, and make beggars of our representatives in foreign countries when the large pay of the Democratic officers about the House remained untouched? Last year the Democrats undertook to cut down the pay of the army officers. For the purpose of showing how ridiculous the movement was, let us draw a comparison between the pay the Democratic Congress wanted to give the officers of the army, and the pay officers of the House were then drawing. The following is the pay of some of the officers of the House:

Clerk of the House.....$4,500 Sergeant-at-Arms.....4,000 Doorkeeper.....2,500
Nine assistant clerks, each.....2,500 Clerk of Document room.....2,000 Distributing clerk.....1,800 Upholsterer and locksmith, each.....1,400 Messenger.....1,400

The Democrats propo to make the pay of the army officers as follows:

Colonel.....$3,500
Lieutenant-colonel.....3,000
Major.....2,500
Captain (mounted).....2,000 Captain (not mounted).....1,600 First lieutenant (mounted).....1,500 First lieutenant (not mounted).....1,400 Second lieutenant (not mounted).....1,300

These tables are interesting. The House refused to reduce the pay of its own officers, but made a strike at the army. The officers of the House are not on duty much more than half the time, and beside that their duties are mostly clerical, while the army officers, except by special leave, are on duty all the while, and are subjected to hardships and privations which the officers in both Houses of Congress know nothing about.
Yet this Democratic Congress which the Madison Democrat says was so careful of the people's money, would make it better so far as pay is concerned, to be a door-keeper in the House of Representatives than to be a captain of a company; and it would give greater pay to a clerk of the House than to a colonel who commanded a regiment. This assault upon the honor and usefulness of the army is condemned by all friends of fair dealing, and should shame the Madison Democrat. If the Democrats in Congress are anxious to inaugurate reforms, and to adopt measures which are practically economical, let them begin the good work at the right place.

MEMPHIS.

The Outlook Reassuring—No New Cases—The Exodus Continues.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 11.—The outlook to-day is decidedly reassuring that no new cases have been reported within the past forty hours, and people are beginning to accept the theory of sporadic cases. Business has generally resumed, and many who failed to get away last night stand around the streets and curse the doctors for creating such a panic.

Judge Ray and his son both are in a critical condition, but their physicians have hopes of their recovery.
The exodus still continues, and all the trains will be crowded again to-night. Last night they were jammed. It was a pitiful sight to see women and children packed on the aisles, all trembling with fear, and the heat so intense that several ladies fainted.

SUICIDE.

They Placed Their Arms about Each Other's Waist and Walked into the Stream.

MILWAUKEE, July 11.—The romantic suicide of an aged couple in the Menomonee Valley this forenoon is the sensation in police circles. They were seen conversing under a clump of willows beside the creek about a half a mile southwest of the new shops of the St. Paul Railway. Then they both arose, each placing their arms about each other's waist and walked down the bank into the stream and were drowned in each other's arms. The party who witnessed the affair was unable to swim, and was obliged to run some distance for assistance. The bodies now lie in the morgue unidentified. The couple were about 60 years of age, poorly clad, and, to all appearances, had suffered for want of sustenance.

THE STORM.

A Destructive Storm Visits Portions of Michigan.

DETROIT, Mich., July 11.—Pontiac, Port Huron, and St. Clair, in this State, were visited to-day by a destructive storm of wind, rain, and lightning, which might be called a tornado. It struck Pontiac about 11:30, and seriously damaged the spires of the Congregational and Episcopal churches, the jail, Dowell's livery stable, and unroofed a number of dwellings.

Damage to the crops and orchards in the vicinity of Pontiac is reported to be very great. So far as known no persons were injured.
Port Huron advises that the storm passed over the city a little after 11 o'clock, blowing the country and city with rain.
The force of the wind blew down the new Methodist church, inflicting a loss of $15,000.
It also blew the side out of E. B.

Taylor's planing mill, blew down the Pine Grove brewery, entirely demolished Barron's photograph gallery, unroofed the Grand Trunk freight houses at Fort Gratiot and Point Edwards, and the Minnie and Gosham blocks and many houses and barns in different sections of the city were upset or unroofed.

A boy named Hoffman had both legs broken by a barn falling on him. A street car driver named Barns was seriously injured in the head by a flying brickbat.
Store fronts were smashed and the goods therein greatly damaged. No correct estimate of the damage can be yet arrived at.

OBITUARY.

Ex-Governor William Allen, of Ohio.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, July 11.—The Hon.
William Allen died suddenly at his home, near Chillicothe, Ohio, this morning.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 11.—Governor Bishop has issued a proclamation eulogistic of the late ex-Governor Allen, reciting his public services, and directing that the flags of the Capitol be displayed at half-mast, and closing the State offices on the day of the funeral.

Ex-Governor Allen was born in North Carolina, in 1806, and received a good education. He settled in Ohio when quite a young man, and studied and practiced law.
He was a member of Congress from that State from 1833 to 1835, and was a United States Senator from 1837 to 1849. In 1874 he was elected Governor of Ohio, and served two years. He is related to Senator Thurman.

WISCONSIN TEACHERS.

LA CROSSE, July 11.—This was the last day of the teachers' association. Superintendent O. B. Wyman, of Virrequa, read a paper on Compulsory Education. Prof.
Henry Sabin, Clinton, Iowa, a paper on The New Education. They were followed by business of minor importance. The election of officers was then proceeded with.
The following were elected for the ensuing year: President, W. H. Beech, of Beloit. Vice-Presidents, Albert Salisbury, of W. R. Rooy, La Crosse; Miss Anna W.
Moody, Oshkosh. Secretary, Fred W. Isham, Walworth County. Treasurer, H. A.
Hobart, Oshkosh. Counsellors, W. H.
Handier, Sun Prairie; R. W. Burton, Janesville; B. C. Grogan, Sheboygan county; Alex. Kerr, Madison; W. D.
Clough, Portage City. A series of resolutions was adopted extending thanks for hospitalities received from citizens of La Crosse, and to the press, railroad companies, etc., and the convention adjourned sine die.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

MILWAUKEE, July 11.—Warren Topfiff, foreman of a gang of men in the employ of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad Company, was run over this forenoon in the Menomonee Valley, and was so shockingly mangled that he died in a few hours. He was moved to his home on Grove street. He leaves a wife and several children.

SKELETON FOUND.

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—Laborers removing the debris of the Southern Hotel, exhumed the skeleton of a woman in the laundry today. The remains are supposed to be those of Kate Lawler, one of the servants of the house, and have been lying where found since the night of the 11th of April, 1877, when the hotel was burned.

FOR ONE YEAR.

ELKHORN, July 11.—W. H. Nichols, of Delavan, convicted of a series of forgeries amounting to $500, on several prominent farmers of Walworth and Darien townships, this county, by which the First National Bank here was swindled, was to-day sentenced to Waupun for one year by Judge Wentworth.

INSTRUCTED.

WATERTOWN, July 11.—At the Republican convention held this evening, J. H.
Keyes and W. F. Whyte were elected delegates from the First Assembly district of Jefferson county to the State Convention at Madison, July 23d, with instructions to vote for the renomination of the present State officers.

AFFIRMED.

TRENTON, N. J., July 11.—The Supreme Court has affirmed the judgment in the case of Mrs. Smith and Cove Bennett, sentenced to be hanged for the murder of Police-Officer Smith, the husband of Mrs.
Smith. The case now goes to the Court of Errors and Appeals.

Storey's Start in Life.

From the Jackson (Mich.) Patriot.
Thirty-one years ago Wilbur F. Storey, proprietor of the Chicago Times, was Postmaster of Jackson and editor of the Patriot. A copy of the latter, dated February 7, 1849, and on file in the County Clerk's office, contains the proceedings of the annual meeting of the County Bible Society, at which Mr. Storey was elected Treasurer, and implicitly was esteemed as a guileless man and a Christian. And it seems also that Mr. Storey found time amid his pressing official duties in the postoffice to handle brands of candles which possessed his perfect confidence, since he did not scruple to honor them with his warrant. Here is a copy of his advertisement:

CANDLES! CANDLES!
THE DEPOT FOR CANDLES IS AT THE Jackson Book Store, Post Office, where may be found Sperma Candles, Tallow Candles, Sterilized do., and do., do., do., do., These candles are all of Eastern manufacture, and are warranted to be first-rate articles. The star candles are equal to sperm at a low price.

upon which Mr. Storey built, but in an evil hour he left Jackson, and the public knows the rest.

BRIEFLETS.

—Take your fan to church.
—No frost last night—except frosted cake.
—Miss Ada Kent is visiting Miss Lou Baines at Evansville.
—Young Maher seems much better to-day, being quite bright and hopeful.
—Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Lane, of Chicago, are in the city the guests of Col. and Mrs. Britton.
—Song and Praise service at the First Methodist church to-night. Subject—"The Lord's Supper."
—The case of Cooper vs. Searles, the Clinton mill case, will be argued before Judge Conger on Monday.
—The Girls' Society of Court St. church invite their friends to a sociable at S. D. Conant's next Tuesday evening, where they will offer fancy articles for sale.
—One of the indispensables for an enjoyable stroll is a walking-stick. Foote has just received a fine assortment, some little, some big canes, but all of them beautiful.

—Mr. G. W. Phelps, of the Third ward, who as a gardener is a big success, is already plucking some very nice sweet corn for his place, which seems to be the first of the season in these parts.

—There was a very enjoyable party last evening at the residence of Mr. Bemis in the town of Center. Several went from this city. Some Whitewater ladies were also present. Anderson's band furnished the music for an enjoyable dance.

—Patrick Judge, who was arrested at Edgerton for stealing a cow, is now lodged in jail here. It has been discovered that the cow which he is supposed to have stolen belongs to a family by the name of Conley living on St. Mary's avenue.

—Rev. Olin A. Curtis, of the Boston Theological School, is to preach at Court street church to-morrow morning. He will be gladly listened to, and especially so by those who first knew him while he was spending his boyhood days in this city, his father at that time being pastor of the First Methodist church.

—"Yours, 95 in the shade," is the way J. L. Ford puts it in giving the public notice that he will make up cheap for cash the few light summer suitings, and pants, which he has left. He wants to make ready for the fall stock, and means business when he makes the announcement found in another column. Ford is thoroughly up in his business, and keeps a fine stock, and does good work as everybody knows.

—The Temple of Honor at its meeting last night, appointed the following committee to make all the arrangements for the Temple's excursion to Madison on Wednesday, July 23, at which time the grand mass meeting is to be held to celebrate the 35th anniversary of the Republican party in this State; also the Republican nominations of State officers will occur: A. A. Jackson, Fenner Rimbald, Geo. H. Osgood, M. M. Conant, Robert Cairns, Jr., J. D. King.

—"You can't get weather hot enough to melt away Wyler's enterprise. He has evidently great sympathy for the thirsty ones, and is still trying to get enough Milwaukee beer to satisfy them. It don't seem more than a day or two when he had a cargo of it come over the road, and yet to-day he was sweating and tugging getting in another shipment. It won't be long before he will have to build a railroad of his own to bring in the beer fast enough to meet the demand.

—The church services are to be rather irregular for a time. Rev. Mr. Sawin and family have gone East for recreation and rest, and the Congregational church is therefore closed for four Sundays. Court Street Methodist will hold but one service each Sunday as a rule, during July and August. Rev. Mr. Royce is to start for the East on Monday and Christ church will be closed for two Sundays. Rev. Mr. Sanderson has been East for some time and lay services have been held at the Presbyterian church. Rev. Mr. MacLean will soon take a vacation also.

CLOSING OUT SALE.

We publish in this issue of the Gazette an interesting announcement by McKee & Bro. This enterprising firm after a season of unexampled prosperity has determined to inaugurate a great closing out sale of spring and summer goods. They have marked down to cost, and in many cases, far below cost, an immense variety of choice and elegant goods, embracing every department in the house and constituting an array of bargains never before offered to this community. Whatever this house undertakes is sure to be carried out to the letter. When they advertise they mean what they say, and say what they mean. They have determined to close out their surplus stock and they will do it. They have cut down prices because they can afford to do so, and first class goods at low prices, such as they now offer, will sell themselves. Therefore, we say, this sale is bound to be a grand success, and those who wish to avail themselves of its benefits should call at once and not delay until it is too late.

SMASHING A STEAMBOAT.

A Collision on Rock River, Last Night, and a Narrow Escape from a Great Slaughter of Life.

About half-past nine o'clock last night there was a steamboat collision near Crystal Springs, where the Odd Fellows held a picnic yesterday. The Lotus left its moorings about 9 o'clock for its last trip to the picnic grounds, carrying some fifteen or twenty passengers. As she neared the grounds she met the Lottie Lee coming back with about fifteen passengers. The two boats collided, and for a few minutes there was one of the liveliest scenes which has been witnessed on the river for many a day. There was a great outcry as the boats came together with a crash and a thud, and immediately the sound of escaping steam struck terror to all, and in a twinkling the Lottie Lee was so full of it that all on board sought refuge as best they could. The Lotus was crowded up against her so that the passengers of the Lottie Lee clambered easily and speedily onto her. In the midst of the confusion a woman's voice cried out for help, and her shrieks added to the confusion. No one seemed to know where she was, save that she was in danger of drowning some where in the river. Lanterns danced hither and thither, the row boats, a number of which were playing about in that vicinity, hurried to the scene of the disaster, and after a few minutes search the drowning woman was found under the wheel of the Lotus, and clinging to one of the paddles with a death-grip. She was hurriedly rescued from her perilous situation, and on being placed on board the Lotus was speedily restored to usual animation. She was not seriously injured, but had a most narrow escape, and received a severe nervous shock. Her name was Miss Mary J. Croft, who lives in the Fourth ward. It appears that she was clambering from the Lottie Lee to the Lotus when some excited man grabbed hold of her, and in the general struggle she fell into the water. The Lotus struck off steam as soon as it struck the other boat, and the wheel to which the woman clung was therefore motionless, which was most fortunate for her. Emory Parks, who fires on the Lottie Lee, was also plunged into the river, the shock of the collision knocking him clear over the shaft, and into the water and mud. He speedily rescued himself, the water being very shallow, as the boat had crowded onto a mud bar to get out of the way of the approaching steamer. A little boy was also saved from a sudden plunge into the river by Ethan Allen, who caught him and pulled him back. Aside from these there were none of the passengers who met with any startling adventures beyond the natural incidents attending such a scene. An examination of the Lotus showed that she had suffered no damage, but the Lottie Lee being much smaller had her upper works pretty badly mashed. The steam pipe had been broken off at the top of the upright boiler, and from this poured forth the steam which caused such consternation. Luckily no hot water was thrown out, and the steam poured directly upward so that it did not burn any of those in its vicinity. The awning was somewhat damaged, and Captain Allen who was steering the Lottie Lee bore so hard to port as to break the rudder. The Lottie Lee was towed down to Chapin's landing where it was moored until this morning, when it was brought down to its usual landing place to be put in repairs. The extent of damage is not definitely known. The "what might have been" is the theme of talk to-day among those who knew of the affair. It is true that there must have been some carelessness somewhere, but whose it is does not belong to us to say. The escape from a fearful sacrifice of life was a narrow one, and had the accident occurred when more of a crowd was participating such a sacrifice could hardly have been avoided.

There is little or no excuse for such mishaps on this river, and it is to be hoped that this warning may prove sufficiently startling to cause more care among those who have charge of excursion boats, and into whose hands human lives are necessarily entrusted.

FATALLY SUNSTRUCK.

Last Thursday afternoon about 2 o'clock a man in the employ of George Hall, near Busseyville, was at work in the hayfield, when he was sunstruck and fell to the ground and almost immediately died. The man was a stranger here, having been from England only two weeks. He was middle-aged and has no family.

OFF THE BAT.

The Chicago-Syracuse game yesterday at Chicago was an exciting one. The Chicago made one in the eighth inning and the Syracuse one in the fourth. The ninth and tenth innings made no charge, but in the eleventh the Chicago got seven unearned runs while the Syracuse got but one, and the Chicago therefore won the game by 8 to 2.

The Cincinnati were defeated by the Boston yesterday, the score being 11 to 2 in favor of the latter.

The Rockford club has disbanded, owing to financial reverses.

BAPTIST FUN AND FACTS.

Last night the church parlors of the Baptist church were crowded to overflowing at the ornamental sociable. Miss Minnie Holdrege gave with fine effect "Mabel at the Window Pane," and being enthusiastically enjoyed, she kindly responded with "Willie's Thanksgiving." In both of those selections she showed her rare elocutionary power and culture to such an extent as to capture her audience and create great enthusiasm. She is certainly a more than ordinary elocutionist, and her part in last night's exercises was a rich treat of itself. Rev. Mr. Chapell propounded a series of conundrums which the audience were called upon to guess out, and which called forth much laughter on account of the local hits. All the aldermen should have been there when the question was asked "What is the present condition of our city and Common Council?" and the answer came with a general roar of laughter—"Completely cowed."

The facts and figures of the pastoral year just ended were perused with interest, by many who joined in the gathering. During this year the pastor has preached 98 times, conducted 92 social meetings, and solemnized 9 marriages; officiated at 16 funerals; baptized 7 persons, and made 427 pastoral calls. During the 15 years Mr. Chapell has been in the ministry he has preached 1,118 times, conducted 1,253 social meetings, solemnized 83 marriages, officiated at 121 funerals, and baptized 213 persons. The amount of money raised by his charges during these years has been about $84,000. The congregation here has raised during the past year $8,000, and has received by letter, by baptism, and by experience, sixteen members.

Whom Victoria Has Outlived.

From the London Hornet.

And now, as she looks back on the two and forty years of her reign, what changes has her Majesty seen in the personnel of her Privy Council, her Parliament, and her Cabinet Ministers, to say nothing of her judicial and episcopal bench! She has outlived by several years every bishop and every judge whom she found seated on those benches in England, Scotland and Ireland. She has witnessed the funeral of every Premier who has served under her except Lord Beaconsfield and Mr. Gladstone.

Not a single Cabinet Minister of her uncle and predecessor's days now survives; and of those who held interior offices under her first and favorite Premier, Lord Melbourne, I can find among the living only Lord Halifax (then Mr. Charles Wood) and Lord Howick (now Lord Grey).

Of the members of the Privy Council which sat at Kensington Palace on that bright summer morning in June, 1837, to administer the oath to the girlish Queen, I can find in the land of the living only four individuals—Mr. George S. Byng (now Lord Strathford), Sir Stratford Canning (now Lord Stratford de Redcliffe), Lord Robert Grosvenor, (now Lord Ebury) and the veteran Earl of Wilton.

Indeed, it must be said that Her Majesty has lived to receive at court in very many, perhaps in most, instances, the successive wearers of the same coronet, and she has seen four Lords Beauchamp, four Lords Aberdeen, four Dukes of Newcastle, four Dukes of Northumberland, and five Lords Rodney.

She has received the homage of four Archbishops of Canterbury, of four Archbishops of York, of five Bishops of Winchester, of five Bishops of Durham, and of five Bishops of Exeter.

She has filled each of the three chief justiceships twice at least; she has received the addresses of four successive Speakers of the House of Commons; she has intrusted the Great Seal of the Kingdom to no less than nine different Lord Chancellors, and she has commissioned eight successive Premiers to form no less than thirteen different administrations.
